EZ-Splint PM™

CARE AND FITTING INSTRUCTIONS

1. Use mouthwash or antibacterial soap with warm water for initial cleaning and lubrication of the EZ-splintPM adjustable feature. Rinse with warm water and avoid extreme temperatures.
2. Your EZ-splintPM has been preadjusted to fit most individuals. Try your EZ-splintPM and use a mirror to check the bitepad position (FIG.1,2).
3. The front edge of the bitepads should rest between the upper third tooth (cupid) and fourth tooth (premolar) from the front midline providing solid posterior support (FIG.2,3).
4. The pinch and slide feature makes adjustments easy. Simply hold the bitepad firmly between your first finger and thumb, while GENTLY PUSHING the bitepad and strap together as shown. Never pull the bitepad against the strap always push the bitepad into the desired slot position. (FIG.4).
5. Rinse with warm water or mouthwash after each use. For thorough cleaning, use toothbrush and toothpaste. Always store EZ-splintPM as it was shipped, in the case around the foam tray.

ADJUSTMENT PERIOD

- To become accustomed to the new feeling of your EZ-splintPM, begin wearing 1 hour before sleep.
- Your goal is to concentrate on lips together and teeth apart. You must become a participant in starting and managing the jaw muscle relaxation process.
- The "grind zone" was coined to explain how jaw muscles fall into regular and easily accessible clenching activity due to habit, stress relief, anatomy, etc.
- Your brain will immediately become aware of the EZ-splintPM bitepads between your teeth. The jaw muscles will react naturally by contracting to start a clenching or grinding cycle searching for a grind zone. This is normal.
- It is natural to experience jaw muscle fatigue, soreness, pain or even headache symptoms when uncontrolled jaw muscle activity builds tension in the grind zone. For bruxers a neuromuscular response is needed to break the clenching cycle and bring the jaw muscles out of their grind zone. When used consistently the EZ-splintPM resilient yet firm bitepads provide the necessary break in the muscle clenching cycle to disrupt the grind zone.
- Part of managing the jaw muscle relaxation process is fighting the natural urge to clench.
- Patients suffering from TMJ discomfort may experience immediate relief due to the instant unloading and protection of the joint.
- EZ-splintPM requires no boiling or mix and easily accommodates dental work and braces.
- Do not use over 12hrs continuously, or by children under 6yrs of age unless directed by a doctor.
